THE TYEE RESTAURANT

The Tye has been an integral part of Coupeville since the 1920's. It was originally owned by Robert and Pat Partridge. Pat's Place provided hot lunches for the students of the Coupeville School, meals for locals and travelers alike, as well as hotel accommodations for unmarried school teachers and traveling drummers (off-island salesmen). After retiring from the Army, Robert moved his barber shop to what is presently the lounge and also built a baseball diamond on what is now the parking lot and motel area. Pat was the cook and ran a small confectionery. Many still warmly remember Aunt Pat and her penny candy. During the 1970's the name of the Restaurant was changed from Pat's Place to The Tye. Tye is Chinook Jargon, taken from Nootka ta-yi which carried the meaning of elder, brother, leader and also is used to refer to the large Chinook salmon.

The current owners acquired The Tye in December 2018. Alan originally from Detroit and Erlinda, Boston, relocated to the PNW from California and are thrilled to now be part of the Coupeville / Ebey's Reserve area and people. Alan left home to start farming in the Wisconsin area and after many career changes ended up in Los Angeles. Erlinda's career has been in health care and medicine, from working in Trauma Centers and then managing Clinical Trials for new medicines and procedures all over the country. Both of them love to be by the water and in the country, Coupeville has become a perfect Ebey's landing place for them. Approaching 100 years, Pat's Place / The Tye has been the local meeting and watering hole for the residents of Coupeville and a respite for those who are traveling through.

We welcome you and offer you our hospitality, good food, and drink. Alan, Erlinda and the entire staff are glad you have stopped by!

Please let us know what we can do to make your visit here as pleasant as possible.
